19. Čabotanje

This game characterizes for rich people to own who played it in their own courtyard. It was played with a wooden ball. While the ball was in the air, the players had to catch it with their hands. The ball was made of wood and was about 10 cm in diameter. The players had to catch it with their hands. The ball was made of wood and was about 10 cm in diameter. The players had to catch it with their hands. The ball was made of wood and was about 10 cm in diameter. The players had to catch it with their hands.

11. Throwing a rock

This athletic discipline is known almost in every part of our country. It belongs to the older sports and is known at different names, e.g. throwing a rock, throwing a rock of the shoulder, etc. The main equipment is a rock weighing 5-7 kilo. It can be organized as an individual or team discipline. The rock is thrown from the shoulder. At the time of throwing a rock, the contestants stand on one leg only and throw their arm's strength to throw the rock. The rock is thrown 3 times. Only the longest hit of every throw is measured and a wrong throw is not counted.

12. Pulling the mosor

In many parts of Croatia, there are other folk games, such as "prevlaka", "pulling the stick", and "coming from Turkish word 'musuren', which is 100 cm long. The completion takes place in a team or individual sport. You need 3 players. The players sit on the grass and hold the stick with their hands. The referee blows the whistle. The team pulls the stick and the referee blows the whistle. The team pulls the stick and the referee blows the whistle. The team pulls the stick and the referee blows the whistle.

THE OLD SPORTS OLYMPIAD

10. Jumping on the goatskin

According to the well known sport historian Živko Radan, this game was already known by our people in Middle Ages. It's got the name by a goatskin. The game is better known in the mountain areas. On the Old Olympics sports in Brodanci it is played in a team. Three players play. The runway is three steps from the goatskin. Every contestant jumps three times on the goatskin and tries to jump as much further from it. You jump with both legs. Every jump from every contestant is measured. All the distances are counted and the winner is the team that has the highest score.

Čočak

This name comes from Turkish which means put something in vertical position. Čočak is made of wood. It is 15cm long. "Čočak" must be put on some wood. Rope hole colored with white color. Every player must hit a "čočak" and if he does it, his team wins 2 points. If he misses it, the opponent team gets two points. The winner is the team that wins more points.

Pulling rope

This sport became an Olympic game in 1904 and since 1920 it's not played anymore. In 1974 Hrvatski Masovni suggested to play this sport and old Olympic sports. He was the main referee for this sport. For this game you need thick rope. There is the main line on the playground. In the middle of it there is the main sign and 2 meters from it on both sides there are the middle line on playground. The sum of games is to pull the middle rope 2 meters from the border. 11 to team sport and on there are 8 players. The last player must not swallow rope around himself. They pull the rope 3 times. By pulling the players must not touch the rope. Winner of the team which pulls the opponent's team 2 times and in case of a drop it pull one more time.

20. Shooting Archery

Bow and arrow, as the basic requisites in this discipline, there are in older civilizations, and in the Middle Ages, were part of military art. Over time the bow and arrow included in the athletic discipline. The arrow can be shot movable and immovable goals, and the OSS apply shooting pumpkin or watermelon. Shooting archery team is discipline shooting pumpkin or watermelon. Shooting archery team is discipline shooting pumpkin or watermelon.
